

Wednesday, August 29 and Thursday, August 30

Journal 1

Being a good reader is like being a good detective.

Being an author is like committing a crime.

Examine the statements above. Write an explanation why each statement is true or false. For example, "Being a good reader is like being a good detective because..."